SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

TRY TO PROVE LATTA KILLED SELF

I call him, "Mr. Dills" now. Always before I had called him just plain "Bob", but conditions have changed. Years ago I believed I had overcome the urge to follow every fire wagon which went by, but last evening about 8 o'clock, when I saw a big light in the east, I just could not resist the temptation. So I drove east, and east. Finally, just this side of Fillmore, I caught up with the fire. It was a large barn which had burned. After a couple of looks, I started back home. I had not gone far until I passed "Mr. Dills", who also had been to the fire, and as I passed I yelled some semi-insulting remark at him. But I had not passed him far when a couple of "snorts" from the high speed motor assured me that I was out of gas. Realizing that Mr. Dills was coming on just behind I jumped out of the car and yelled at him as he passed: "Hey, Bob, wait a minute." Bob slowed down and I walked up to his car. "Hey, Bob," I started but he cut me short. "Mr. Dills" if you please. Then I started all over again: "Mr. Dills" said I. "I have completely exhausted the gasoline supply in my car and need assistance. Will you kindly help me by taking me to town?" "Say! please!" said Mr. Dills, and I did. "Well hang on the running board, thumber!", he said as he started his motor and headed toward town. So there I hung, with the cold, cold wind whipping viciously against my frail form, until we reached town. As I thanked him most courteously for his "lift," he remarked: "Expect, you had better put some thing about that in your 'funny column.'"

But that was not all. Next I had to go to a gasoline filling station and get two gallons of gasoline in a "sack", and then "thumb" my way back to my poor thirst suffering leaping Lena. Finally, way late in the night, I got back home, thoroughly convinced that "Bob" Dills had completely passed out of my life and that hereafter and forever it will be "Mr. Dills."

And I am thoroughly convinced that a gasoline buggy without gasoline, is no buggy at all.

I just went down to visit O. W. (Holly) Hollowell and his fleet of new model Chevrolets which arrived at 3 o'clock this morning, fresh from the factory, just in time for the advertised Saturday showing. And, believe me if you can, those new "Chevies" are all to the well little busses. They have a lot of new refinements and, well, so take a look for your self.

Speaking of the weather, I can't say much.

But it could be a lot worse.

One of the boys here in the shop told me this morning that the next time he got out of an automobile he was going to try to go out the door. Several days ago he went out through a windshield and has not been feeling well since.

And still no "urgent" invitation from Ott Webb to take a quail hunt. Maybe his supply of food is low, or, maybe, he just naturally don't like to hunt with a game law violator.

ABANDONED CAR DESTROYED BY FLAMES FRIDAY

IS FOUND BY A DEPUTY SHERIFF ON THE NATIONAL ROAD NEAR
MT. MERIDIAN—BEARS INDI-
ANA LICENSE PLATES 42314—
MAY BE STOLEN

Reports from the office of the Secretary of State at Indianapolis showed the license on the truck have been issued to William Ackling and Cecil Homes of 1020, north Seventh street, Terre Haute.

An abandoned Chevrolet truck, bearing Indiana license No. T42-314 was found a blaze on State Road 40 near Mt. Meridian by a deputy sheriff late Friday night. Before the flames could be extinguished the vehicle was completely destroyed, and it was impossible to find other marks of identification on it.

At the sheriff's office in the Putnam county court house this morning it was impossible to locate the name of the owner of the license plates as that particular number is not on file there. Sheriff Edward Eiteljorge, however, was to call the office of the Secretary of State this afternoon and learn to whom the plates had been issued.

According to the officer, who found the blazing car, it had been pushed off to one side of the road, and in his opinion it had been set afire as the vehicle had been partly stripped. The head lights and other accessories had been removed.

Two theories were advanced by authorities today concerning the destroyed truck. The truck may have been stolen and fired to prevent recognition and apprehension of the thief or it may have been burned for insurance the officials hold.

Injured Woman In Capital City Hospital—Is Said To Have Been Intoxicated At Time of Smashup On National Road

George Hampshire, 42 years old of 1719 West Maryland street, Indianapolis, who faces three charges in the Putnam circuit court as a result of an automobile crash in which an unidentified woman was injured, is in the Putnam county jail today awaiting arraignment before Judge James P. Hughes. The hearing cannot be held before Monday as the Judge is out of town.

The man was arrested by Indianapolis police late Friday, and was brought to Greenecastle by Sheriff Edward Eiteljorge and his deputy Friday night. Warrants for the man were prepared Friday afternoon by Prosecutor Marshall D. Abrams, and were forwarded to the Indianapolis authorities. Capital city officials went immediately to the home of Hampshire and apprehended him.

Charges against the man are operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, possession of intoxicating liquor and public intoxication. The accident following which the charges were filed against the man occurred on the National Road just west of Mt. Meridian about 10:13 o'clock.

Trucks driven by Hampshire and Paul Taylor of 1803 College Avenue Indianapolis were in collision. The truck driven by Hampshire was completely demolished, and the other machine was badly damaged. It is said that Taylor was driving west at the time of the smashup and that the other car was being driven east. Taylor fled the charges against the other man.

Before a deputy sheriff, who was called to investigate the smashup arrived Hampshire had hitch-hiked a ride toward Indianapolis. The unidentified woman, who was injured in the crash left with him. She was riding in the cab of the truck with the alleged drunken driver when the wreck occurred. The Deputy sheriff found a bottle of liquor, several bottles of homebrew and a revolver in the truck driven by Hampshire.

It was later reported that the injured woman had been removed to an Indianapolis hospital, but her name was not learned.

ASKS JUDGEMENT AGAINST SOUTH PUTNAM COUNTY MAN

Paul Buis, in a suit filed in the Putnam circuit court this morning asks a judgement of $125 against Earl Tharp, south Putnam county man. The suit is a complaint to foreclose a mechanics lien, which Buis claims to hold on property owned by the south Putnam man.

Buis alleges that in August, 1929 he was engaged by verbal contract to do work on the Buis property, for which he was to receive 40 cents an hour. He states that he worked 350 hours, for which he should have been paid $140, however, he claims to have received only $75. In December, 1929 he alleges he filed the lien for the other $65 due him. The remainder of the $125 asked is to cover costs of the case and interest on the $65.

Heber H. Ellis, Clyde Cash and the True Hixon Lumber company are named as defendants in the suit as they are said to pretend to have claims against the property. Ellis and the Lumber company each recently filed suits to foreclose a mechanic's lien against Tharp. Both claim to have furnished building material for the construction of the Tharp property.

TWO STILLS TAKEN IN DANVILLE RAID

DANVILLE, Ind., Nov. 15.—Bert Shane, sheriff of Hendricks county, tonight raided the farm home of Harold Phillips in Brown township, arrested Phillips and confiscating two stills, 500 gallons of mash and thirty gallons of whisky in kegs. Phillips, who is an employee of the Prestolite Company in Indianapolis, was placed in jail at Danville and will be arraigned in court Monday on charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

PROPOSE GIANT STONE MERGER REPORTS STATE

ALL COMPANIES IN LIMESTONE AREA ARE INCLUDED—WOULD PREVENT PRICE CUTTING BY COMPETING CONCERNS

BLOOMINGTON, Nov. 15.—A giant stone merger to include all the quarries and mills of the Indiana Limestone company, the Bloomington Limestone company as well as the independents, is now proposed, it became known today. It would be approximately a $75,000,000 consolidation if it goes through, it is said.

The negotiations have gone so far to have an audit of all the companies in the combine made by a nationally known firm of auditors it was learned. This audit has been completed. Whether it will be possible to finance the gigantic proposition remains to be seen. It was said that the two big companies as well as the independents would be asked to purchase stock in the big merger and then have a holding company take over and operate all the properties.

The advantage of such a consolidation, it is argued, would be to put a stop to price cutting of the great Hoosier natural products in the Bloomington-Bedford stone area.

The original merger, effected by the Indiana Limestone company, included a great combine of about 40 stone companies. Harry Johnson, of Bloomington, followed by accomplishing a merger of several mills and quarries under one consolidation known as the Bloomington Limestone company.

MRS. GOOD IS DEFENDANT

Man and Wife Are Charged With Assault and Battery on Floris McCamack of Fillmore Following Altercation At Farm

Philip Good and his wife, Edith Good of near Danville will go on trial in the Putnam circuit court Monday. Both face charges of assault and battery filed by Floris McCamack of Fillmore following an altercation which is said to have occurred Tuesday, November 4. McCamack alleges that the pair unlawfully assaulted him.

The trial is to be held before a jury, and sheriff Edward Eiteljorge and his deputy, Alva Bryan are busy today serving the summons on the various members of the jury throughout the county. A motion for a jury trial was filed Friday by the defendants.

Good and his wife were arrested following an altercation with McCamack at the McCamack farm near Belle Union. At the time they resided there, but have since moved to near Danville. The defendants say that the altercation followed an attempt of McCamack to instruct them how to vote. McCamack claims that the trouble came up over the division of the farm crops.

McCamack charges that Good struck him with a baseball bat, and that Mrs. Good hit him with an iron pipe. Good claims the act was committed in self defense, and that the other man struck him first. McCamack suffered a badly bruised head and an injury to his eye.

ACQUITTED COP A BROTHER OF PUTNAM COUNTY FARMER

John Volderauer, one of the Indianapolis policemen, acquitted this week of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws, is a brother of Rudolph Volderauer, a Putnam county farmer, who lives about four miles east of Greenecastle. The officer has been eligible to a pension for the past two years but remained in service. A conviction on the charge against him would have taken away his right for a pension. Eleven officers were charged with conspiracy and each was acquitted.

FARM BARN IS BURNED EARLY FRIDAY NIGHT

SEVERAL TONS OF HAY AND A
CALF ARE DESTROYED IN FIRE
WHICH DESTROYS STRUCTURE
ON RUDOLPH VOLDERAUER
FARM, EAST OF TOWN

Fire of unknown origin, which started at near 7:30 o'clock, destroyed a barn on the Rudolph Volderauer farm, about 4 miles east of Greenecastle, Friday evening. Several tons of soy bean hay and a calf, which were in the barn, were destroyed. There was no insurance on the contents but the barn loss was partially covered by insurance.

Mr. Volderauer lived on the farm, better known as the Ella York farm, which he purchased about two years ago. He came to Putnam county from Indianapolis. The fire was plain visible from Greenecastle and many people, attracted by the light of the burning barn, drove out to see the fire.

When the fire was discovered, the entire inside of the building was in flames and there was no chance to save it or its contents.

TIGERS CLASH WITH STRONG MANCHESTER ELEVEN TODAY

The DePauw Tiger footballers drew first blood in their contest with Manchester college on Blackstock field this afternoon, when early in the first quarter by the use of running plays they marched steadily down the field for a touchdown. The kick for goal failed. On the next play the Old Gold kicked off to Manchester, and a Chester back carried the ball the length of the field for a touchdown. This kick for goal likewise failed, and the quarter ended with the score tied 6 to 6.

Early in the second quarter the Old Gold again marched down the field for a touchdown, again the try for point failed, and the score stood 12 to 6, in favor of DePauw. However, a few minutes later a Chester back raced 40 yards for another marker for the visitors. The extra point was made, and the score stood DePauw 12, Manchester 13, with several minutes to play in the second quarter.

Two football team with slates clean so far as Indiana college games are concerned clashed on Blackstock field here this afternoon when the strong Manchester eleven met DePauw.

Coach Gaumy Neal sent his protégés through a snappy signal drill yesterday in final preparation for the battle with the upstate squad.

The Tigers, with the exception of Ewing, veteran left tackle, are in condition. Moore, a 190 pounder from Evansville will replace Ewing in the forward wall.

Friend Testifies That Dead Man Spoke of Death "As Where He Wanted To Be"—Says Attempts Were Made To Take Out Life Insurance

Cross-examination of William Kreigh, of Indianapolis, was continued by the plaintiff in the suit of Emma Margaret Sanders, Et. Wayne, fiancée of Will H. Latta of Indianapolis, DePauw University trustee against the Employers Liability Assurance Association in the Hendricks circuit court at Danville in which Miss Sanders seeks to collect $20,000 life insurance bequeathed to her in Latta's will.

In direct examination last evening Kreigh testified that Latta had talked frequently of death and at one time had made the statement that if death was oblivion, then there was where he wanted to be. He further testified that he and Latta had driven out to the crossing where Latta met his death and that Latta had said, "This is the place I have told you about."

A. M. Holmes, engineer of the train that struck and killed the DePauw Trustee at a crossing near Carmel June 12, 1929, testified that the Latta car without lights, had seemed to stall on the crossing previous to the arrival of the train. The testimony of the fireman was the same.

The defense is expected to introduce witnesses who are connected with Indianapolis insurance offices to substantiate earlier testimony that Latta not long before his death had tried to take out numerous insurance policies. The defense is not expected to rest its case before Monday. No court will be held tomorrow.

The suit is the outcome of the insurance company's refusal to pay to Miss Sanders the amount bequeathed to her in Latta's will, basing its refusal to do so on the verdict of the Hamilton county coroner, who after an investigation following the accident would not return a verdict of accidental death.

BAINBRIDGE HIGH SCHOOL QUINTET DOWNS ROACHDALE

The Bainbridge high school basketballers defeated the Roachdale aggregation in two contests on the Bainbridge floor Friday night. The Bainbridge first string players downed the Roachdale quintet by a 11 to 6 score. At the half the Roachdale boys had failed to score, and the score stood 10 to 0 in favor of the winners. Whitaker was the outstanding player for the victors, while Clones looked best for Roachdale.

Roachdale's second string lost their game by a 19 to 12 margin, with the score at the half being 11 to 5 in favor of the winners.

DEPAUW FROSH DOWN WABASH; SCORE 18 TO 0

HALF ENDS 12 TO 0 IN FAVOR OF OLD GOLD—GAME IS PLAYED ON BLACKSTOCK FIELD THIS MORNING

DePauw university's freshman football team downed Wabash college yearling team, 18-0 this morning on Blackstock field. Most of the scoring was done in the first few minutes of the game when Ave, former Clinton high school player and DePauw quarterback, grabbed the opening kick-off and raced 80 yards for a touchdown. A few minutes later a forward pass was batted into his hands by a Wabash player and he scored again. The first half ended 12-0 in favor of DePauw.

This was the second game for the DePauw team, and the first and only encounter on the Wabash rhinoceros schedule. DePauw was defeated earlier in the year by Terre Haute State Normal freshman 6-0. Wabash had a heavier team than the Tiger yearlings but the local backs proved more fleet.

The second and last quarters were scoreless. In the third period DePauw scored again when Lortz, DePauw center, caught a blocked punt that had bounced in the air and raced across the goal line. E. Crawley, a Greencastle boy, played an outstanding game at right end and with Lortz, center, proved to be the cream of the line. In the DePauw backfield, Ave and Bradley proved most dangerous. All tries for the extra points failed.

For Wabash, Blackmore and Vojvodich in the line and Kutz and Beagle in the backfield, were easily the class of the visitors. Kutz with his long punts kept the Wabash outfit safe in their own territory while Beagle unleashed the last minute drive that came within a foot of scoring for Wabash. The game ended with the ball only a few inches from being across the line following a line buck after Beagle's sixty yard run down the field.

A large crowd of DePauw students were at the field to cheer the rhinoceros. Coach Messersmith has trained some likely looking candidates that will make a strong bid for varsity berths next year.

NEW CHEVROLET IS ON DISPLAY OVER COUNTRY

SHOWS MANY IMPROVEMENTS OVER POPULAR 1930 MODEL—DEALERS PUT 1931 MODELS ON EXHIBITION TODAY

Chevrolet's new car for 1931, priced substantially below current levels, goes on display today throughout the nation.

Heralded as "The Great American Value," the new car boasts a two-inch increase in wheelbase, larger and roomier bodies by Fisher with mohair or broadcloth as optional trimming, and scores of refinements in appearance and performance despite the new prices which bring the level for the 1931 car to a far lower figure than any Chevrolet, four or six, has ever sold.

Dealers throughout the United States put the new models on exhibition this morning for the first time nearly two months in advance of the customary date for the showing of the annual new car. This move in advancing the announcement date, it was felt by Chevrolet officials, would render a distinct contribution to the insuring extraordinary activity because of general business revival by giving two normally dull business months for the 200,000 people throughout United States who depend directly upon Chevrolet for their livelihood.

The nineteen domestic production plants of the Chevrolet organization are now in full swing on the new model, according to W. S. Knudson, president and shipments are going out to dealers to assure immediate delivery of all models.

Fundamentally the new model embodies the same basic features which since the introduction of the Chevrolet Six enabled it to achieve a popularity exceeding Chevrolet's former four cylinder model and four times as great as any other six cylinder car. However, scores of improvements and refinements have been made this year—every change designed to increase the smartness, performance, safety or durability of this latest General Motors model.

Among the improvements are a fully insulated front compartment, easier steering, more durable clutch, smoother and quieter transmission, and liberal use of rustless chromium plate on exposed bright parts. Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers, and fully enclosed, weatherproof four wheel brakes continue as standard equipment.

In the line of nine body types are three open models—the roadster, phaeton and sport roadster, and six closed models—the coach, sedan, special sedan, the three-window coupe, the five window coupe, and the sport coupe.

SANITY IN DRIVING

Happy hundreds of Hoosier holiday motorists are flocking to beauty spots these fine autumn days and as a result the roads are filled with cars and the papers are filled with tragic accounts of accidents that could have been avoided with a little more care and a little more sanity.

Every driver today should be familiar with certain rules of the road and there are certain obvious characteristics which mark a sensible driver. A list of these follows:

A sensible driver does not attempt to pass another car going in the same direction while going up a hill or around a turn.

A sensible driver invariably will slow down while making a turn even on a well-paved, well-banked road.

A sensible driver will cut his motor speed to about half its normal pace in wet weather or when the road is covered with snow and ice.

A sensible driver will not try to beat a train, interurban or street car to a crossing.

A sensible driver will have a first-aid kit containing a liberal supply of sterilized bandages, mercurochrome or iodine, adhesive tape, a tourniquet to stop the flow of blood, scissors for the removal of soiled garments and for cutting bandages and tape some safety pins and perhaps some aromatic spirits of ammonia for help in stimulation and in restoration of consciousness.

A sensible driver will keep his eye on the road, his mind on his business and both hands on the wheel.

Finally, in case of an accident, a sensible driver, as long as he is conscious will see to it that he or any injured is placed in the hands of a competent physician at the earliest possible moment.

Human Power and Steam Power

A recently said: "It takes two kinds of energy to run a railroad—the energy of human beings and the energy of locomotives."

More than fifty millions of dollars are invested in the locomotives that haul trains of the Big Four.

To maintain them properly requires the services of forty-five hundred men and the expenditure of eleven million dollars a year.

In addition, there are hundreds of enginemen and firemen in passenger, freight and yard service.

The high grade of service rendered by the Big Four is a tribute to the quality of both the men and the machines that furnish the power.

IN MEMORY

In memory of our dear little ones, Evelyn Maxine, Donald Ross, who departed this life 1 year ago Nov. 16, Dec. 3, 1929.
Two cherished ones from us have gone.
The ones we loved so well.
And just how much we miss them Is more than tongues can tell.
The Heavenly Father has called them.

He claimed them as his own,
And now they dwell with angels,
Beside the great white throne.
Sad hearts they left behind them,
To plod life's weary way,
To prepare ourselves to meet Him
Who took them home to stay.
And when our journey ends,
And all our troubles o'er,
We hope in heaven to meet them,
And dwell for ever more.

PRESENTING THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX

Today the Chevrolet Motor Company presents the Bigger and Better Chevrolet Six, a new model of the six-cylinder car which has enjoyed such wide popularity.

In both the chassis and body of this new six-cylinder Chevrolet you will find expressed, as never before, Chevrolet's well-known policy of progress through constant improvement.

For—without departing from the basic features which have won the enthusiastic approval of over 2,000,000 buyers—Chevrolet has produced a six-cylinder car which represents an entirely new standard of quality, value and refinement in the low-price field.

Your first impression of the new Chevrolet will be one of striking fleetness, grace and beauty. The car is longer, lower and modernly smart. The radiator has been deepened and its appearance enhanced by a curving tie-bar and chrome-plated parabolic headlamps. The long hood lines sweep back unbroken to blend gracefully into the new Fisher bodies. And never was Fisher's fine craftsmanship more evident than in the bodies of the new Chevrolet Six!

Not only are the smart, graceful, new bodies roomier and more comfortable, but as you study them you will discover many gratifying new features and pleasing refinements—many examples of that painstaking attention to detail which is the basis of true quality.

Mechanically, too, the new Chevrolet Six is a better automobile. The wheelbase is longer. The frame is stronger. The steering is easier. The clutch is more durable. There is a smoother, quieter, easier shifting transmission. In fact, wherever finer materials and more advanced design could add to Chevrolet quality or increase Chevrolet's traditional economy of ownership—improvement has been made. See the new Chevrolet Six—and you will agree that here is the Great American Value!

THE THEATERS

VONCASTLE

Famous Drama is Talmadge Vehicle
Norma Talmadge will shortly be seen as one of the foremost heart adventures ever known when her new United Artists picture, "Du Barry, Woman of Passion" comes to the Voncastle theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, matinee and night, opening tonight with midnight preview.

The rise to fame of the young milliner who later, as Madame Du Barry, ruled a king and the hearts of the aristocracy provided the material for one of David Belasco's most successful plays.

Miss Talmadge plays a creature of love and flame, an alluring beauty whose charms make her the sovereign of millions. Put to the task of choosing between love and luxury, between the man of her choice and a life of folly, artificiality and power, she chooses the primrose path only to repent of her decision when the heart call of the man she has rejected overwhelms her with regrets. In the shadow of impending tragedy she fights her way back to idealism and happiness. The world has never tired of this fascinating story of young lovers who lived through torturous years of separation until a kind fate brought them together. Thousands of popular plays, books and pictures owe their theme to this world-famous romance of "Du Barry."

In the supporting cast are William Farnum, Conrad Nagel, and Hobart Bosworth.

"The Big Pond" With Maurice Chevalier Opens Today

The management of the Granada Theatre is pleased to announce the attraction "The Big Pond" starring Maurice Chevalier for today and Sunday, matinee and night.

It's built to order for Mr. and Mrs. Average Fan and all the little Fans. And here's a tip—it's Chevalier's favorite of the trio which comprises "Innocents of Paris," "The Love Parade" and "The Big Pond."

Chevalier knows better than anyone else that the secret of his success lies in his easy, "one-of-the-gang" naturalness. Just being himself gives his unique talents and sparkling personality their best opportunity.

In both "Innocents of Paris" and "The Love Parade" Chevalier created characterizations that were unreal to him. Now, in "The Big Pond," he has a role that, as he would tell you in his own fluent American slang, "is right down his alley." Here they will see Chevalier as Chevalier playing himself, and they couldn't hope for more than that.

The cast is a clever and capable one. Claudette Colbert, heads it. The songs are knockouts sung in

It pays to know

WHEN you spend your money for the seven and seventy things that are always popping out of nowhere to demand a portion of your income, you want to be certain they are returning the utmost in value for your every dollar.

But how can you know the worth of the products you buy? Can you test them scientifically?

Can you make microscopic examinations for flaws and imperfections? Chemical analysis for purity and composition? Physical machine-tests for stress and strain, strength and durability? Have you laboratories equipped for this work? Can you afford the scientists and research workers to perform it?

There is a less expensive way to safeguard your purchases. A better way to buy.

Buy products that have been tested by others! Products that have passed the most ruthless and rigid of all tests . . . that of actual use! Nationally known, nationally liked, nationally used products! Advertised products!

Here, in the advertisements, are products of sound worth brought to your attention. Products manufactured to standards of certain quality, that have been tried and tested by the most exacting persons . . . people who have bought them, and used them over and over again. Products worth your money.

Get the habit of reading the advertisements. It pays.
